Author's Order Form

Taylor & Francis Group | Routledge | CRC Press | Psychology Press | Garland Science | Taylor & Francis

This is the order form that entitles all our authors and contributors to their contractual 30% discount on their own books, and on other books published by Taylor and Francis (excluding multi-volume works and some Encyclopaedia priced over £200 that will be offered at 15% discount). Please use it if you wish to order any books. If you think that you are likely to order books regularly, and/or spend more than £500 per year, we can readily open a credit account. Otherwise we ask authors to pay with a credit card or against a pro-forma invoice.

The 30% discount (approximately the same as our average discount to retail customers) is given to authors because of our special relationship with them and because they are often well placed to sell books at conferences, seminars, workshops and similar events. Those activities and this business are important to TandF and we want to encourage it. Carriage is free for orders in the UK and is normally about 12.5% of order value for orders overseas. We will also supply orders on a "sale or return" basis in the UK.

Orders for authors are managed by the CIS (Corporate and Institutional Sales) team that is part of the UK Sales department and based in our main office in Milton Park, Abingdon. As you would surmise, the CIS team works on sales to businesses, institutions and organizations, e.g. professional bodies and their websites. Any suggestions authors may have for sales opportunities should be sent to Alfred Lea, Business Development Manager, by emailing cis@tandf.co.uk.
